MILOSLAV REHCIGL: A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Miloslav Rechcigl, Jr., is one of the founders and past Presidents of many years of the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences (SVU), an international and professional organization based in Washington, DC. He is a native of Mladá Boleslav, Czechoslovakia, who has lived in the US since 1950. After receiving a scholarship, he went to Cornell University, where he studied in the years 1951-1958 and received his B.S., M.N.S., and Ph.D. degrees there, specializing in biochemistry, nutrition, physiology, and food science.

He then spent two years conducting research at the National Institutes of Health as a postdoctoral research fellow. Subsequently, he was appointed to the staff of the Laboratory of Biochemistry at the National Cancer Institute (NCI). For some 10 years, while he was at NCI, he conducted extensive research relating to cancer biochemistry and enzyme turnover in vivo.

During 1968-1969 he was selected for one year of training in a special USPHS executive program in research management, grants administration, and science policy. This led to his appointment as Special Assistant for Nutrition and Health in the Health Services and Mental Health Administration. In 1970 he joined the Agency for International Development, US Department of State, as Nutrition Advisor and soon after was promoted to the position of Chief of Research and Institutional Grants Division. Later he became a Director with the responsibility for reviewing, administering and managing AIDS research.

He is the author or editor of over 30 books and handbooks in the field of biochemistry, physiology, nutrition, food science and technology, agriculture, and international development, in addition to a large number of peer-reviewed original scientific articles and book chapters.

Apart from his purely scientific endeavors as a researcher and science administrator, Dr. Rechcigl devoted over 50 years of his life to the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences (SVU). In 1960-1962 he served as secretary of the SVU Washington D.C. Chapter. He was responsible for the first two Society's World Congresses, both of which were a great success and which put the Society on the world map. For a number of years, he then directed the publication program of the Society.

He also edited the Congress lectures and arranged for their publication, under the title The Czechoslovak Contribution to World Culture (1964, 682 p.) and Czechoslovakia Past and Present (1968, 2 volumes, 1900 p.). The publications received acclaim in American academic circles and greatly contributed to the growing prestige of the Society worldwide.

Dr. Rechcigl was also involved, one way or another, with most of the subsequent SVU World Congresses, including the recent SVU Congresses in Prague, Brno, Bratislava, Washington, Plzeň, Olomouc and České Budějovice. Prior to his last term as the SVU President (2004-2006), he held similar posts during 1974-1976, 1976-1978, and again in 1994-1996, 1996-1998, 1998-2000, 2000-2002, 2002-2004.

Together with his wife Eva, he published eight editions of the SVU Biographical Directory, the last of which was printed in Prague in 2003. He was instrumental in launching a new English periodical Kosmas: Czechoslovak and Central European Journal. It was his idea to establish the SVU Research Institute and to create the SVU Commission for Cooperation with Czechoslovakia, and its Successor States, which played an important role in the first years after the Velvet Revolution of 1989. Under the sponsorship of the Research Institute he and his colleagues conducted a series of seminars about research management and the art of “grantsmanship” for scientists and scholars, as well as for administrators and science policy makers, at Czech and Slovak universities, the Academies of Sciences and the Government.

He was also instrumental in establishing the National Heritage Commission with the aim of preserving Czech and Slovak cultural heritage in America. Under its aegis, he has undertaken a comprehensive survey of Czech-related historic sites and archival materials in the US. Based on this survey, he has prepared a detailed listing, Czech-American Historic Sites, Monuments, and Memorials, which was published through the courtesy of Palacký University in Olomouc (2004). The second part of the survey, bearing the title Czechoslovak American Archivalia, was also published by Palacký University (2004).

In this connection, he also organized several important conferences, one in Texas in 1997, the second in Minnesota (1999), the third in Nebraska (2001), and the fourth in Iowa (2003). Through his initiative, a special Working Conference on “Czech & Slovak American Materials and their Preservation” was also held at the Czech and Slovak Embassies in Washington, DC, in November 2003. It was an exceptionally successful conference which led to the establishment of the new Czech & Slovak American Archival Consortium (CSAAC). Later, he also organized, jointly with the ACSAC of North Miami, a conference on “Czech and Slovak Heritage on Both Sides of the Atlantic,” March 17-20, 2005. The conference was co-sponsored by the US Commission for the Preservation of America’s Heritage Abroad, under the aegis of both Presidents of the Czech and Slovak Republics.

Among historians, Dr. Rechcigl is well known for his studies on history, genealogy, and bibliography of American Czechs and Slovaks. A number of his publications deal with the early immigrants from the Czechlands and Slovakia, including the migration of Moravian Brethren to America. In the last few years he has been working on the cultural contributions of American Czechs and Slovaks. A selection of his biographical portraits of prominent Czech-Americans from the 17th century to date has been published in Prague, under the title Postavy naši Ameriky (Personalities of our America) (2000; 350 p.). On the occasion of his 75th birthday, SVU published a collection of his essays, under the title Czechs and Slovaks in America (2005, 316 p.). Three years later, he published a voluminous monograph, On Behalf of their Homeland: Fifty Years of SVU, an illustrated eyewitness account of the history of the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences (2008; 671 pp.). And finally, on the occasion of his 80th birthday, the SVU published his personal memoirs, Czechmate: From Bohemian Paradise to America Haven (2011). In the same year, Rechcigl published his unique Czech American Bibliography: A Comprehensive Listing with Focus on the US and with Appendices on Czechs in Canada and Latin America (2011).

In 1991, on the occasion of its 100th anniversary, the Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences awarded him the Hlávka Memorial Medal. Subsequently he was also given the Bolzano and the Comenius Medals. In 1998 he received the newly established prize Gratias agit from the Czech Minister of Foreign Affairs. More recently, he was given an honorary title, “Admiral of the Nebraska Navy,” by the Governor of Nebraska and the key to the Capital of Nebraska by the Mayor of Lincoln and the SVU Prague Chapter awarded him “2002 Praha SVU Award.” In 2005, the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic honored him by awarding him the Jan Masaryk Medal for his contributions to preserving and fostering relations between the Czech Republic and the United States. In February 2010, President of the Senate of the Parliament of the Czech Republic presented him a Silver Medal of the Senate for his efforts on behalf of Czechs abroad and for fostering of good name and the traditions of the Czech Republic. In 2012 he was awarded by the Minister of Interior of the Czech Republic, Jan Kubice, a medal for his lifetime contributions to the Czech archival science.

TRIBUTES

Míla Rechcigl has many admirers and many colleagues from SVU who recall their many years of work and friendship with Míla in our learned organization. Below, in alphabetical order by surname, are a few tributes from them:

Petr Hausner, SVU President:

His Work Speaks for Itself

A difficult to believe truth, the youngster, who still swims on most days, works at least 12 hours a day and would not skip a good fight, is turning 85!

Míla Rechcigl, the heart and soul of SVU for the past 60 years, the prolific encyclopedic writer, 8 times former president of SVU, current SVU Writer in Residency, SVU Archivist and SVU Council Speaker will celebrate next to his biggest supporter, his wife Eva, yet another important Birthday. With his relentless push towards bigger and better SVU, it was Míla who has most likely recruited you into SVU. He sure did recruit me and became an invaluable mentor. By living and breathing SVU, Míla has substantially advanced the cause of the Czech and Slovak communities in the world and considerably enriched their life. He painstakingly documented the contribution of Czechs and Slovaks to American science, arts, sports and social life in a soon to be published monumental work. By doing so, he furthered the international standing of the Czech and Slovak Republics.

We wish him strong health, many happy returns of the day and promise to continue his work at our best abilities.

Tom Holbik:

Dr. Mila Rechcigl recruited me to join the Executive Board of the SVU as Treasurer in the spring of 2014. I was appointed at the 2014 conference in Plzeň. I had known Dr. Rechcigl from the early 2000's, when I was the email liaison between my father, Dr. Karel Holbik, who had prepared a paper for the 2004 conference in Olomouc, and Dr. Rechcigl. I recall that there was much discussion about the conference that year to make sure that the details regarding my father's presentation were all in order. My father was proud to have worked with Dr. Rechcigl in making his presentation a success.

Then last year, I received an email from Dr. Rechcigl about filling the Treasurer vacancy on the SVU Board. After some reflection about the role and responsibilities, I sent in my biography. As Dr. Rechcigl was interested in people as human beings and in their histories, he requested not just a C.V. listing accomplishments as if I were applying for a job, but also a narrative that described my background and connection to the Czech community, which I was happy to provide. The next thing I knew was that I was appointed Treasurer! The role has provided not only an opportunity to help restructure the finances of the SVU and help move the organization to the next level of financial management, but also, and perhaps more importantly, to connect in a more profound way with my Czech heritage. I have Dr. Rechcigl thank for this wonderful opportunity.

Louis Reith:

I owe several debts of gratitude to Mila Rechcigl over the last dozen years. First, I believe it was he who first made me aware of SVU and the wonderful conferences which it sponsors. I must have met him at the Czech Embassy and at subsequent diplomatic and social events. Although I no longer remember when I joined SVU as a full-time member, I do remember that my first European conference was in Olomouc in 2004, with a paper about the 17th century Baroque composer Pavel Vejvanovský. Second, it was Mila who encouraged me to consider writing a paper about the "American Beethoven," the 19th-century Czech/German Bohemian composer Anthony Philip Heinrich. Thanks to Mila's suggestion of that topic, I later found almost 40 boxes of his musical manuscripts and papers in the Library of Congress's Music Library, and I then presented the paper at the Great Plains Czech Conference which Prof. Mila Sašková-Pierce sponsored at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in April 2011. Later, with Mila's encouragement, I added footnotes and Hugh Agnew just published it in Kosmas last year. Third, Mila encouraged and nominated me for the SVU Board of Directors in 2012, and he and his wife put up with me for my final weekend in Washington, early in February 2013, when I attended a Board meeting in Potos, MD, before racing in my 1992 Toyota to beat the moving van to Seward, NE (I made it to Seward barely the night before the van arrived). These are but three major reasons why I will drink a toast of good Nebraska wine in honor Mila's birthday this coming Friday evening.

Milo, šťastné narozeniny z Ludviku!

Peter Ujhazy:

I have learned about Mila from my long-term friend and the current President of SVU, Petr Hausner. "Mila is a force of nature," prepared me Petr for meeting Mila, and he was right. Over the years, I have always admired Mila's energy, deep comprehension of SVU's history and, most of all, his commitment to the organization he helped to shape over the decades. His incredible knowledge of Americans with Czech or Slovak roots will be now brought to light in his masterpiece that he has been working on for many years. Mila, all the best wishes to you and may the SVU benefit from your vast experience for many years to come.

Dagmar White:

Mila and I are going back many years. We soldiered on the SVU world congresses, executive boards, and local SVU activities.

Milo, your total dedication to SVU, hard work, leadership, and uncompromising stand made this organization successful and lasting. Your vast literary output on the rich culture of the Czechs and Slovaks is outstanding.

Milo, on your birthday I am wishing you all the best and hope that we both can soldier on for many more years.
