

The New Millennium: New Vistas and New Challenges

January 1, 2001 marks the beginning of the third millennium. As the old millennium ended, it is time for some reflection on what we can learn from our past successes, as well as failures, and plan for the future.

The Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences, or SVU, as most of us affectionately call it, has been in existence for almost half a century, long enough to make some generalizations as to its usefulness and effectiveness. It was established during the era of the Cold War, when former Czechoslovakia was ruled by the Stalinist regime.

Many Czech and Slovak intellectuals and other freedom loving people were forced to abandon their homeland and seek asylum in the West. It was these intellectuals who conceived the idea of establishing SVU. Their aim was to keep alive the country's treasured historic traditions that had their beginnings long before the second millennium began and which had been repudiated by the oppressing regime. Although the Western world was disturbed by the ongoing events behind the Iron Curtain, it was hopeless to change their course. It was these circumstances that led the Czech and Slovak intellectuals abroad to establish SVU. Some people erroneously thought that the Society was established out of pity or desperation. Not so, according to the late Dr. Jaroslav Nemeč, who is generally recognized the SVU founder. As he used to say, the Society was created out of anger to the world's indecision and inability to stop the inevitable disaster.

The SVU wanted to provide a forum for free development of Czechoslovak culture in exile and make the world aware of the Czech and Slovak cultural traditions which date back more than a millennium. Its activities, as outlined in the original bylaws, consisted of supporting and coordinating the educational, scholarly, literary and artistic endeavors of the Czechoslovak intelligentsia abroad. This concept was soon broadened to open the Society to all individuals interested in fostering Slovak and/or Czech culture, regardless of their ethnic origin.

Our accomplishments to date speak for themselves. In brief, the Society has organized twenty world congresses, six European conferences and twenty regional conferences, over thirty art exhibits, more than fifty musical and drama productions, and more than twenty book displays. Furthermore, it has published over eighty books and monographs, and four periodicals, besides sponsoring or providing support to some fifty other publications. In addition to the above, each chapter has organized meetings, lectures, discussions, exhibits and local functions. It should be pointed out that all of this has been accomplished by its own effort and with its own financial resources. The Society is not dependent on anybody, does not owe anything to anybody and it stands on its own feet.

Following the end of the communist regime in 1989, the SVU's functions greatly expanded. Now, in addition to its original mission, the Society has become a bridge between Czech and Slovak professionals and those in other countries. It has allowed scholars abroad to benefit from contact with their Slovak and Czech colleagues, as well as helping to reintegrate the intellectual life of these two nations into the mainstream of world science, arts and letters, from which they were separated by political barriers for so long.

In the last six years the Society has witnessed unparalleled rebirth and remarkable growth. Among various Czech and Slovak-related organizations, SVU now clearly holds the leading position. The 20th SVU World Congress held in Washington last August was an unqualified success, both in terms of its overall program and financially, and in the opinion of many it was the pivotal event of the historic year 2000 for everybody interested in the thing Czech or Slovak.

The newly elected Executive Board which took over the helm of the Society at the SVU General Assembly meeting last August has immediately engrossed itself in mapping its agenda and priorities for the next two years. Notwithstanding the enormous progress the Society has made in recent years, there was the realization that the Society is aging fast and that remedial action is needed to put a stop to this trend. As a result, the consensus among us is that the time has come to rejuvenate SVU and revamp its leadership ranks with young people.

Our local chapters have already been admonished to start the process in earnest. "Accent on Youth" is now clearly our highest priority. In this connection we have appointed a special Youth Advisory Committee, which is working on establishing a young people database. To be effective we need full cooperation from every member. Members are urged to enroll their children in SVU and encourage them to get involved in our work. We welcome volunteers among our younger generation to participate in various SVU activities and any initiative they may come up with.

Young people can greatly benefit from membership: by presenting papers at SVU conferences and congresses, submitting papers to SVU English periodical Kosmas, get advise on dissertation topics, participate in student essay contests, periodically report on their progress, activities and success stories in SVU newsletter, etc. Our newsletter Zprávy SVU now regularly brings biographical sketches of selected young people in a special column "Focus on Younger Generation."

There are also many opportunities for our young people to get involved in SVU activities. The organizers of the forthcoming SVU Conference in Nebraska in August would be pleased to have interested young people work with them on the program, as would our collab-orators in Plzen, Czech Republic who are in the midst of preparation of the next SVU World Congress to be held there in the year 2002.

Apart from rejuvenating the Society, we are putting great emphasis on publications which have always been considered "SVU imperative". We are pleased to see our periodical Kosmas back in business. We encourage the authors within, as well as outside the Society, to submit their papers for consideration. Our new editor, Clinton Machann, and his Editorial Board are prompt in their response. To make it a viable enterprise, we would like our English periodical to eventually be self-sufficient. To accomplish this goal, we need new subscribers, from individuals, as well as from institutions, libraries, etc. All members are urged to subscribe and publicize it among their friends and university libraries.

We are also anxious to get our monograph series going and would welcome suggestions from our members on possible titles, authors, etc. We normally don't publish books ourselves but rather in cooperation with other established publishing houses which are better equipped for the purpose.

We are also putting great emphasis on improving communications with our members. We have improved our newsletter Zprávy SVU in its content and also speeded up its publication schedule. We now carry a regular feature "SVU Calendar", bringing news of the forthcoming activities of individual Local Chapters. For its maximum usefulness it is imperative that the Chapters keep sending in their updates.

The most effective communication, however, is done via e-mail and that is the way SVU Executive Board members communicate with one another. I am pleased to note that most of our Local Chapters have their own e-mail and have access to INTERNET. Those Chapters that don't have e-mail access have been urged to include among their officers individuals with such capability.

SVU needs to use the latest technology to move forward. After a few years of experimentation with a Home Page, we now have our own Web Site, which is highly informative, continuously kept up to date, user-friendly and interactive. Members who haven't seen it yet, should look at it. Our URL address is relatively simple and easy to remember: www.svu2000.org

Two more areas were added to SVU priorities, i.e., preservation of our cultural heritage abroad and work towards the development of civil society. With reference to the former, SVU has already made considerable progress. In cooperation with National Heritage Commission, comprised of major Czech ethnic organizations, it has conducted a comprehensive survey relating to historic sites and archivalia. The result of this survey were two draft reports, "Czech-American Historic Sites, Monuments, and Memorabilia" and "Czechoslovak American Archi-valia." This work is obviously only a beginning. From the reports it is apparent that most ethnic organizations have not as yet deposited their documents in any of the established archival repositories and most of them haven't even inventoried their private possessions.

With reference to the last priority, work on the development of civil society, this was, of course, the central theme of the last SVU Congress in Washington, DC. This is an area which will be further pursued in our future conferences and publications. We have also initiated a new Elias Humanitarian Award which will be awarded annually, together with an honorarium.

I hope these words will give you some "Food for Thought." I look forward to your comments and suggestions, and especially welcome any new initiatives and volunteer help from interested members.

UPDATE ON DR. FISCHMANN'S PAPERS

SVU is publishing posthumously the work of its member, Czech musicologist Dr. Zdenka Fischmann, who devoted her entire life to making available information about Czech music to the English-speaking public. Her articles and lectures are an excellent scholarly study of various epochs, composers, and trends in Czech music. Her expertise was Ja-náãek, MartinŮ, and Jewish musicians of Czechoslovak origin.

The project has been assigned to Dr. Dagmar White and Dr. Judith Fiehler who will serve as co-editors. The planned volume will have between 250 to 300 pages, which will include some articles on psycho-therapy through musical therapy. The bound volume will enhance any library of musicologists and music lovers. Progress on this project is well along, including the compilation of Dr. Fischmann's bibliography and finalization of the Table of Contents. Negotiations with potential publishers are on the way. Our goal is to publish the book within a year.

He graduated summa cum laude with a B.A. in economics from Kent State University in 1984 and an M.L.S. in 1991. As a graduate student in library science he completed a practicum in the Cleveland Public Library's Foreign Literatures Department and a manuscript reference guide to Czech-American sources. (The Cleveland and New York public libraries were the first to collect Bohemica and began to do so in the period of Czech mass immigration in the later nineteenth century.)

He has contributed articles on problems of Slavic and Germanic material in library catalogs to the peer-reviewed journals Cataloging & Classification Quarterly, Slavic & East European Information Resources and Kosmas. He wrote about Czech-American collections in Texas for Ctenar and about Sorbian- and Ukrainian-American museum libraries for the journal of the Slavic and East European Section (SEES) of the Association of College and Research Libraries. His publications on the Czech-American historian and bibliographer Thomas Capek (1861-1950) include an article in Kosmas on the Capek Papers at the Library of Congress and a biographical essay in Clinton Machann, ed., Czech-Americans in Transition (Austin, TX: Eakin Press, 1999).

He contributes to the activities of SEES (see above) and its committees at the annual conferences of the American Library Association. He is a director of the Czech Education Foundation of Texas, which led the way to establishing the Chair of Czech Studies at the University of Texas. He has chaired sessions and read papers at SVU conferences in Brno (1996), Texas (1997) and Washington (2000) and currently serves the society as managing editor of Kosmas, its peer-reviewed journal of Czech and Slovak studies.

JOSEF POLISENSKY (1915-2001)

One of the Czech Republic's most respected historians, Josef Polisenky, has died at the age of eighty-five. He was a specialist on modern Czech history, but was also well known for his research into British, Dutch, Spanish and Latin American history. In the English-speaking world he is best known for his work on the historical links between Bohemia and Britain. In his long career, Josef Polisenky published more than 120 books, and taught at universities around the world. He died, following a short illness, having worked until the last day of his life. He worked on a new volume of his work this time dedicated to the role Danes played in the Thirty Years War.

Professor Polisenky was active despite his failing health. Having traveled to the United States in Spring 2000, he planned another visit — he was going to give a lecture on Czech Migration to the United States at the SVU conference in Washington but had to cancel the trip because he was not feeling well. He did give a public lecture in the National Museum on December 7, 2000, a week before his 85th Birthday. As always he did not read his lecture and his lecture was very lively.

Professor Polisenky was a true renaissance scholar his research covering Thirty Years War, History of England, and of Latin America, particularly in 16 and 17th centuries. His works include: Anglie a Bila hora, Trice-tileta valka a evropske krize 17. stoleti, Strucne dejiny Kuby. He received recognition and awards in various countries (Austria, Spain, Venezuela to name but a few). He was open to new methodologies (e.g.: in case of migration), and probably nobody knew Czech archives as well as he. His memoirs should be published shortly and should add another aspect on the development of the Czech society in 20th century.

On a personal level: Professor Polisenky advised many students on their doctoral work. We became friends while I worked on mine. At the funeral where various generations were represented I sat next to a man whom he advised in 1947. My work was defended in 1992.

JOSEF K. HASEK (1911-2001)

Dr. Joseph K. Hasek, a fifty year resident of the District of Columbia (1948-1998) died on January 20, 2001 at the age of 89 in his native Czech Republic after a long illness. Dr. Hasek was born on April 2, 1911 in Prague and earned a Doctorate of Jurisprudence and Economics at Charles University in Prague. As the last private Czechoslovak banker before the Communist takeover of that country, he was President of Hasek & Co. Bank, founded by his father, Frantisek Hasek. In January, 1948 Dr. Hasek was invited by the U.S. government to come to the U.S. to make recommendations as to expanding trade between the U.S. and Czechoslovakia. He was to have returned to Czechoslovakia on March 5. On February 25 the Communist coup thwarted his return and forced him to remain a political exile in the U.S. The communist government seized his bank and other properties. Dr. Hasek became a U.S. citizen and served as Vice-President of the International Bank of Washington. He later founded Combined Agencies Corporation to provide international economic consulting and promote foreign trade.

Dr. Hasek was an untiring champion of the Czechoslovak cultural legacy in the United States. He established and served as President of the Czechoslovak-American Education Council, and was an active member of the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences, which in 1998 set up a Joseph K. Hasek Scholarship Fund in his honor.

A memorial service was held on January 29 at the Dahlgren Chapel of Georgetown University. He is survived by his daughter, Eliska Hasek Coolidge of Washington and Prague, his son, Jan Hasek of London and Prague, and by three grandchildren. Instead of flowers the family asks that contributions be made in his name to the Joseph K. Hasek SVU Scholarship Fund, Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences, c/o Frank Mucha, Treasurer, 200 Riverside Dr., Apt.5F, New York, NY 10025.

DR. ČESTMÍR JEŠINA (1924-2001)

Čestmír Ješina, rodák z Rapotic na Moravě, zemřel ve věku 76 let v městečku Woodstock ve Virginii.

Do exilu odešel po únorovém komunistickém puči. Studoval v Anglii a v roce 1958 obdržel M. A. v politických vědách na Oxfordské univerzitě. Z Anglie odejel do USA, kde pokračoval ve studiu politických věd na George Washington University. V roce 1970 mu byl udělen titul Ph.D. Dlouhá léta pracoval jako Senior Analyst pro International Energy Affairs of the U.S. Department of Energy ve Washingtonu. V důchodu se pak věnoval spisovatelské činnosti a práci v českých exilových organizacích.

Dr. Ješina byl aktivním členem československé národní rady, Sokola, nějakou dobu byl předsedou Wilson Club a nejmíc práce věnoval Společnosti pro vědy a umění. V letech 1971-1973 byl předsedou washingtonské místní skupiny, pak sloučil dva termíny v předsednictvu SVU ve funkci místopředsedy v letech 1984-1986 a znovu byl zvolen na období 1986-1988. Mimo to byl aktivním členem Czech Interdenominational Service a dvacet let zpíval ve sboru tohoto českého kostela v Emmanuel Lutheran Church v Bethesdě.

Čestmír Ješina byl velký vlastenec a celá léta v exilu pracoval oddaný pro českou věc. Nechyběl na žádné schůzi, na žádném podniku, či národních oslavách. Přidnášel a účastnil se všech SVU kongresů, pokud mu sloužilo zdraví. Když před pár lety onemocněl, česká komunita velice postrádala jeho podporu a věrnou obětavost a bude ji postrádat dále. Dr. Ješina byl jedním z těch nenahraditelných pracovníků na roli národa českého a patří mu náš trvalý vděk.

Přátelé Čestmíra Ješiny mohou uctít jeho památku darem Společnosti pro vědy a umění. Vzpomínkový dar, vystavený na SVU, pošlete pokladníkovi Franku Muchovi na adresu: 200 Riverside Drive, Apt. 5F, New York, NY 10025.

Poznámka redaktora

Dr. Čestmíra Ješinu som poznal ako kolegu na Federálnom ministerstve obchodu aj ako priateľa celého desaťročia. Bol takmer u kolisky SVU a zostal jej verným členom až do svojej smrti. Bol horlivým vlastencom českým i československým. Spomínam ako na niektorých oslavách, keď sme stali vedľa seba, s akou vervou spieval „Nad Tatrou sa blýska“. Ja som sa mu, pravda, nedal zahanbiť a s rovnakým zápalom som spieval. „Kde domov můj.“ Čestmír bol predovšetkým dobrý človek a veľký demokrat. Česť jeho pamiatke. Jeho manželke, Alexandre, vyslovujeme našu hlbokú sústrasť. A.E.

SVU FELLOWS

Many members of the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences, those of long standing as well as the newest, have reached levels of professional excellence in their respective fields as scholars, scientists, educators, technologists, writers, artists, and in other creative vocations. To recognize those of outstanding achievement by electing them as Fellows of the Society, SVU is opening its Fellowship program as envisaged in the SVU By-Laws. The award of Fellowship honors the elected individuals. However, the College of Fellows is also to become yet another source of a continuing critical appraisal of the conduct of the Society's affairs, its effective governance, its adherence to professional standards, and of the maintenance of its democratic and non-partisan character. The award of the status of a Fellow is not conceived as a recognition of only those who have reached the zenith of their creative, life-long work. Many men and women, with much fruitful work still lying ahead of them, may have already attained levels of professional achievement warranting their nomination for SVU Fellowship. The SVU By-Laws charge the Society's Council with administering the Fellows program and, following a professional scrutiny of the proposed candidates for the status of a Fellow, with their election by a simple majority of the voting members of the Council.

MILOSLAV REHCIGL, SVU PRESIDENT

NOMINATION AND ELECTION OF SVU FELLOWS

Members of the Society may be elected Fellows of the Society in recognition of their outstanding record as scholars, scientists, educators, technologists, writers, or artists, or in other appropriate creative fields. Any one or more SVU members acting as Sponsor(s) may propose a candidate for SVU Fellowship to the Fellows Nominations Committee of the SVU Council (further "the Committee") for election by the Council.

A. INITIAL PROPOSAL OF CANDIDACY. The initial proposal should contain the name, the address, the professional field and the current position of the candidate. Upon the receipt of the proposal, the Committee shall provide the Sponsor(s) with guidelines for establishing the candidate's dossier. The initial proposal, in the form of a letter addressed to the Committee, should be submitted by mail, fax, or e-mail to the Speaker of the Council: Zdenek J. Slouka, Lucemburska 43, 130 00 Prague 3, Czech Republic, tel./fax 011-420-2-6272070, e-mail: sloukaz@cuni.cz.

B. REVIEW AND NOMINATION. The completed candidate's dossier shall be evaluated by at least two experts in the candidate's field, chosen ad hoc by the Committee. Where the expert evaluations and other data so warrant, the Committee shall nominate the candidate to the SVU Council for election.

C. ELECTION OF FELLOWS. The nomination of a Fellow to the Council shall be accompanied by a synopsis of the candidate's dossier and of its evaluation. The votes of the members of the Council shall be in writing, their anonymity ensured by the standard double-envelope method. The ballots shall be mailed to the Speaker of the Council for transmission to the Committee. Only votes received within thirty days from the date of the Committee's submission of the nomination to the Council shall be counted as valid. The Fellow shall be elected by a simple majority of valid votes.

The Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences announces the establishment of an annual ANDREW ELIAS SVU HUMAN TOLERANCE AWARD

Beginning with the year of 2001, the first year of the third millennium, the Society will bestow the annual Andrew Elias SVU Human Tolerance Award on an individual whose life and work symbolize the living value of human tolerance. The Award shall be accompanied by a prize of $ 1,000.

In its Resolution adopted at the occasion of the historic 20th World Congress held in Washington in 2000, the Society reaffirmed its resolve to work "toward enhancing the values of human tolerance and of freedom of spirit and thought." With a sensitivity so uncommon in these times, and expressing his deep and long-held convictions, Dr. Andrew Elias has decided to sponsor, through the Society, an annual Human Tolerance Award.

In an age marked by animosities and strife among human beings around the globe, the quest for human tolerance is the fundamental imperative of this day. Without human tolerance, democracy itself decays, culture is warped, civil society becomes uncivilized. Human tolerance cannot be decreed. It has no institutions and no structures. It either lives in men and women as their innermost value guiding their feelings and thoughts and deeds, or it does not live.

Therein lies the meaning of the Andrew Elias SVU Human Tolerance Award: to keep on reminding us that human tolerance begins in human beings, and to do so by recognizing and honoring those whose life and work have been guided by tolerance and compassion.

Every year, one Award shall be bestowed.

In keeping with the spirit of the Andrew Elias SVU Human Tolerance Award, no criteria, such as nationality or SVU membership, shall limit the eligibility of proposed recipients. Any woman or man whose life and work reflect the ideals of human tolerance and compassion, may be proposed by any SVU member or a group of members, such as SVU Local Chapters or ad hoc groups.

The names of the proposed candidates for the Award, accompanied by adequate data and other relevant information on the life and work of the proposed candidate, should be submitted to the SVU Secretary General no later than April 15 of the year for which the Award is to be given.

All proposals shall be forwarded to the SVU Award Nominations Committee now being formed. The Committee will evaluate the proposals and nominate one or more candidates. The Committee's recommendation(s) shall be submitted to the SVU President for the final decision by the Executive Board. The Committee may nominate two or maximum three candidates of comparable merit.

For reasons of propriety and decency too obvious to enlarge upon further, the proposals of candidates must be submitted on a confidential basis. A premature publicity of the name of the person being proposed for the Award may result in non-acceptance of the proposal.

The Award will be formally presented during the next SVU World Congress or, in the year between Congresses, at another appropriate occasion. The Award recipient shall be invited to deliver a lecture following the Award ceremony.

HISTORICAL MARKER TO HONOR THE PITTSBURGH AGREEMENT

The Pennsylvania Historic Marker and Museum Commission recently approved an application to honor Tomas Garrigue Masaryk and the signing of the The Pittsburgh Agreement with an official historic marker. The application was submitted to the Pennsylvania State Commission by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences (SVU), a nonprofit, international organization (www.svu2000.org) which includes as one of its goals, the preservation of Czech and Slovak heritage both in this country and abroad

The Pittsburgh Agreement played a significant role in the course of events leading to the establishment of an independent Czechoslovak state after the First World War. The catalyst for the drafting and signing of this Agreement was the visit to Pittsburgh in 1918 of Professor Tomas Garrigue Masaryk who later that year became the first president of Czechoslovakia. On May 30, during his visit to Pittsburgh, Masaryk addressed an enthusiastic crowd of 20,000 that had gathered in support of the new nation. As recounted by local newspaper reports, Professor Masaryk was "greeted with tumultuous and thunderous applause" and delivered a speech that was described as "striking heart fire." The Pittsburgh Agreement was signed the next day by local Czech and Slovak representatives who pledged support for the formation of an independent country.

A dedication ceremony for the unveiling of the historic marker honoring this event is planned for Thursday afternoon, May 31, 2001 at the corner of Seventh and Penn Avenues in downtown Pittsburgh, near the site of the original signing. In attendance will be representatives from the Czech and Slovak Embassies, state and local officials, and members of Czech and Slovak organizations. Anyone interested in attending the dedication ceremony is welcome to do so.
